REGARDING SEXUALIZED VIOLENCE DISCLOSURES & CSU INTERPRETATION OF TITLE IX

Policy on Personal Writing and Disclosures of Sexualized Violence

For non-composition classes:

In this class, the topic of sexualized violence will emerge in readings, films, and class discussions. Making personal connections with the topics studied can be a meaningful and important project, but please be aware of the following policy regarding confidentiality and disclosures of incidents of sexualized violence.

For composition classes:

In this class you will select your own writing topics. Please keep the following in mind as you develop new topics throughout the course of the semester:

- Consider all of your writing for this class as public. You are encouraged to write on topics that matter to you, and while this can elicit writing that is deeply personal, you must always be prepared to share your work with others.

For both composition and non-composition classes:

- In the event that you choose to write or speak about having survived sexualized violence, including rape, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking and specify that this violence occurred while you were an HSU student, federal and state education laws require that, as your instructor, I notify the Title IX Coordinator. They will contact you to let you know about accommodations and support services at HSU and possibilities for holding accountable the person who harmed you.
- If you do not want the Title IX Coordinator notified, instead of disclosing this information to your instructor, you can speak confidentially with the following people on campus and in the community. They can connect you with support services and discuss options for holding the perpetrator accountable.
